“ Along with some of his business partners, Greg provided me an opportunity to extend and grow my career. I'll always remember Greg fondly for his approach as a gentleman and his business mentoring during the period we worked together. He was a very good man indeed. RIP, Greg.

“ When I think about individuals that I spent a small part of my life with, but learned a lot from, Greg is at the top of the list.
The word gentleman was invented to describe Greg.
While we shared values in business, it was about life even more.
My thoughts to Geneva, and family...

“ Greg and Sue were great friends in the days all of our children were young. We enjoyed playing tennis together and watching our children in their sports endeavors.
Greg was truly a gentleman in every respect of the word.
I am honored to have known him and hope his children will find comfort in knowing that their father's legacy lives on through them and their family.
Prayers for love and comfort to his wonderful family.
God Bless, Liz & Butch Hicks
