“ *Our Deepest Sympathy to the family. What a shock to learn that Ann Marie died so suddenly. Our family was on vacation years ago, and we stopped at Ann Marie and Rev, Dr, Walter's home, when they lived in Rochester, New York
They insisted we spend the night with them. We did. Ann Marie made a delicious Breakfast for us. They both were so gracious to us.
Love, Larry and Donna Segerlind*

“ Friends and classmates from the 1958 class of North High School, Worcester, MA extend their deepest sympathy to the Hanson and Kirkpatrick families.

In 2008 Anne-Marie was with us at our 50th reunion. It was a most enjoyable evening as we renewed acquaintances and shared memories.

Our thoughts and prayers are with you at this time.

“ Ann-Marie and I were first cousins, but geography kept us apart from very early childhood. We met again as adults when she and her mom (our Aunt Esther) came to the wedding of our mother, Elsie, on July 31, 2004, the 85th birthday of Elsie and Esther. Our whole family was so thrilled to renew this long lost connection, and subsequently three trips to and from Florida and California were made by us all. When I was ill a few years ago it was Anne-Marie who routinely called me just to talk (and in fact she gave me some very good medical advice as well, which doctors had overlooked, and confirmed her suggestions!) and I felt so close to her. Looking at her picture I see our "Seegerlind" resemblance. When my sister Judy and I visited Anne-Marie a few years I went through all of Anne-Marie's photo albums. There I saw what a wonderful life she and her family had lead over the years. What a beautiful family she and Bill raised; such love she gave to everyone. We are so sad to lose her. May her memory be for a blessing. Cousin Marsha, and Alvin, Zoe and Joseph Begun

“ Anne-Marie and I were student nurses together at The Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston, MA. She had qualities that I had not known in any of my other friends and acquaintences. I would have to use the whole dictionary of adjectives to discribe what she possessed, so I will just label her as special!

What this world has lost Heaven has gained as an angel!
