“ I had the pleasure of teaching Brandy when she was a high school student. Chemistry was not her thing, but she persevered and did a great job! She was a sweet, kind, and beautiful inside and out. Her beautiful eyes lit up when she smiled, and being around her felt peaceful! I feel her loss and I hurt for the family. I know that her light is shining bright in her new home, the Heavenly Kingdom she was promised. Alina and Dina, you are also beautiful, strong women and I know that your strength comes from God's grace. I pray for His loving arms to hold you tight as you go through this tragedy. My prayers are with you each and every day.
