“ Carl I will truly miss our long talks on real estate and what we were doing, then the later years your battles with cancer! You were my first Broker in the real estate industry, Elsie the one that kept me straight, and you taught me so much, you were my mentor! You were still working on projects until now! It didn't end there either, we remained friends over the years! I will never forget you and will really miss you!!! See you again my friend! Love, Sue (Pepler) My prayers are with you Elsie and your family and friends.

“ Carl was a great role model as a father. His kids love him dearly and hold him in the highest esteem. He was a great father-in-law and always treated me with kindness and respect. Once he figured out how well I took care of his little girl, he became a big fan of his new son-in-law. I will miss his wisdom, his encouragement and the special anticipation he created for me every year at the Florida/Georgia game. I still remember sitting with him in 1983, in a sea of orange and blue wearing his red and black. We thought enough of Carl E. that we named our daughter Carly. He was a tender and loving Granddaddy, and my children are lucky to have had a relationship with him that they will always remember. I rejoice that he was a dedicated Christian, and that he gets to see his parents again. His last words to me were "I Love you so much Clayton". That was the first time he had said that to me in 29 years of knowing him. I will miss Carl dearly.

“ Carl was the manager at Lake Worth Branch of Farm Credit when I became a rehire in 1998, it was he who hired me. I was always impressed with his soft spoken philosophy that we were all given the same amount of hours in a day and what we did with those hours mattered to our outlook and outcome for the day. I am sorry he suffered in his last days, but I know he kept right on going as long as he could. I admired the man!
