Elizabeth "Betty" Scarcell

May 29, 1925 – April 3, 2025

We said goodbye to our beloved mother, Elizabeth—known to most as Betty. Born in the beautiful coastal village of St Monans, Scotland, she was the epitome of a proper British lady: elegant in style, sharp in wit, and full of grace.

She came to Miami (Coral Gables) “just for a year” as a young RN, ready for a little sunshine and adventure. But life had other plans. She met our dad, Joe, who was attending the University of Miami—and from that moment on, her one-year plan turned into a lifetime filled with love, laughter, and unforgettable memories.

Betty had a deep love for people, a fun spirit, and a sense of humor that could brighten any room. She had a way of making everyone feel special—whether you’d just met her or known her for years. She made fast friends wherever she went, including her neighbor in later years—fellow Scot and legend, Sean Connery, James Bond. (Yes, really.)

She raised us—Linda and Michael—with warmth, strength, and a lot of love. She was a proud grandmother to Daniel and Catherine, and nothing made her happier than seeing her family together, sharing stories and laughter over a good meal.

Throughout her life, Betty remained deeply connected to Scotland, making many return trips to visit family. Her visits were always filled with laughter, reminiscing, and cherished time spent with those who meant so much to her.

She lived life with quiet strength and timeless grace. She was independent, wise, full of curiosity, and always ready with a clever quip.

We'll miss her dearly—her laughter, her stories, her hugs, and her beautiful Scottish accent. But more than anything, we'll carry with us the way she made us feel.

Instead of saying goodbye she would always say T.T.F.N. - Ta Ta for now.
T.T.F.N. Mom.
