

Evelyn M. Sabino

April 25, 1935 - December 19, 2016

Evelyn was born on April 25, 1935 and passed away on Monday, December 19, 2016.

Evelyn was a resident of Huntsville, Alabama.

Tribute Wall

“ Evelyn M. Sabino

October 22, 2023 at 10:17 AM

“ I had too many memories with her to name I had no idea till right now she had passed away I tried to call her today and it was because she woke me in my sleep last night my heart hurts knowing she is gone I was her water aerobics instructor for 9 yrs and also a very dear friend I loved her as family she was sacillion and I'm Italian also we had many many long talks about life , love, and her past and her family wow she enriched my life breaks my heart i didn't get to hug her one more time rest easy I love you

Stephanie Roney - Huntsville, AL - friend - April 18, 2017 at 12:00 AM

“ Goodby my friend. I will miss you at the Science Fair this year. I appreciated all your help with AAUW so very much!

Marilyn Robertson - Huntsville, AL - Friend - January 04, 2017 at 12:00 AM

JF

“ Evelyn and I met at Hunter College. We were very good friends and would stay up until all hours discussing family, school and the ways of the world. Shortly after she moved to Chicago I enrolled in graduate school here and we were roommates for several years. The long discussions continued and now included love lives, and triumphs and tragedies of our studies. Her ex husband was a frequent weekend visitor. Evelyn finished her PhD and left Chicago, I married and stayed. We stayed in touch through all these years. I missed her annual Christmas newsletter and was planning to contact her. Today I learned why.

Judith gidden - Chicago, IL - Friend - January 03, 2017 at 12:00 AM

MF

“ We were long time friends since college days. I am so sorry to hear of her passing.

Margaret Norton - Holmdel, NJ - Friend - January 03, 2017 at 12:00 AM

MF

“ Evelyn loved to travel almost as much as she loved her friends and family. She spoke often of her niece and nephew. She loved teaching chemistry and was always worried about STEM initiatives. She loved a good conversation. I missed her annual letter this year and was planning to call her today, only to learn this morning that she passed away. I will miss her sharp wit.

Marge King - Drexel Hill, PA - Family - January 03, 2017 at 12:00 AM