“ Gloria and I are first cousins, by virtue of the fact that our mothers were sisters in the Kaelin family from Kentucky, my mother being the youngest of ten surviving siblings and Gloria's mother a few years older. Because of this age difference, Gloria was more versed in the history and stories of the Kaelin family and siblings. She was able to tell many stories that were funny, some inspiring, and some that recounted the pranks the siblings would play on each other and the high jinx played on non-family. She even told me of some good stories of my own parents that I would not have known of without her knowledge. Gloria and I talked often, more so as we each grew older. We agreed on most things having come from the same values, but sometimes disagreed on political points of view. She usually informed me of some things I was unaware of and when I got the chance to speak, I believe she learned some things from me. Either way, we are family and I will miss speaking with her and her friendship.

May she rest peacefully until we all meet again!

Love
