“ A sad time that brings many memories. Aunt T taught me many things, including the location of each gear on the H pattern of a car's stick shift. Her nickname Tillie, came from the comic strip, Tillie the Toiler who was an old school fashionista. My mother told us of a time when T was 3 or 4 and could not be found for quite a while. She had crawled behind the wood stove at Ma's house and fallen asleep. She joins Pa, Ma, Adeline, Ed, Roy (Bunk), Ray, Edna, Ethel, Dory, and Elwin (Fuzzy). What a remarkable family. All five sisters attended college and became teachers or nurses. A remarkable achievement for a rural VT family in the first half of the 20th century.

“ Helen volunteered every Friday at our non-profit, El Sol, delivering bread to our food program. We were deeply saddened by the news of her passing. Our deepest condolences to her husband, Jim Plungis, family and close friends.

“ A sad time, but one that brings many happy memories. Aunt T taught me many things, including the location of each gear in the H pattern of a manual shift. Her nickname, Tillie, came from the comic strip Tillie the Toiler. My mother told us that Tillie, when three or four years old, once hid from the family and couldn't be found for some time, she had hidden herself behind the wood stove in the kitchen at Ma's house and fallen asleep. Helen joins Ma, Pa, Ed, Adeline, Ray, Roy (Bunk), Edna, Ethel, Dory, Elwin (Fuzzy). What a remarkable family, what wonderful memories. All five sisters attended college to become teachers and nurses, a remarkable achievement for a rural VT family in the first half of the 20th century.
