“ Such an enduring impression he made in his few short years. Never to be forgotten. "Mrs. Renner"

“ I still think about Coach Hunter to this day. He was a mentor and role model that any aspiring hoop-star would be blessed to have. I reminisce about memories that him and my team experienced at the Jupiter Middle School gym. We would all show off and dunk in between water breaks boasting about our skills, then Hunter would hit a windmill off the backboard and humble us real quick. I'm forever grateful for the wisdom I learned from this hero. Hunter was a man that would push me outside my comfort zone until I pushed myself to exhaustion. I'm a better athlete but more importantly a better man because of Hunter Ross. I'll officially be attending Palm Beach Atlantic in 10 days when Hunter graduated. God is good.

“ Dear Ross Family,

Hunter was one of the sweetest people I have ever met. I know we don't know why things like this happen, but we do know that the Lord is in control. Please find comfort in God the only one who knows what you are truly going through. I have been praying for Hunter and your family and will continue to pray for you. You are loved.

“ Dear Ross Family,

I trained with Hunter and he taught me so much. Not just about basketball but about loving life and making every day count. Basketball is a sport where everybody is so critical of each other and making it to the next level is very difficult. It is very easy to feel down on yourself. Coach Hunter always believed in me and every single one of his players. He has prepared me well for facing adversity. Every workout, he would show up with so much energy loud as can be with a smile on his face. I first learned about him being a man of faith when he was training me and three other teammates. He mentioned a proverb that says "iron sharpens iron" and referred it to me and my teammates pushing each other to get better. After one workout, he pulled a book out of his car called "The Greatest Salesman in the World" and read an excerpt to me about persistence and never giving in. He has taught me so many lessons that were meant to help me find success on the basketball court but also to carry into life. I hope I can make each day count like he did. Hunter will always have a place in my heart because he was more than just a trainer to me. He was a mentor and a friend that I could talk to about anything. His passing has ignited a fire in the hearts of every player he trained. I only knew him for a few years but I am so grateful that I got to know Hunter Ross.
