“ My heart goes out to Bubba's parents. Through his father's life-long friendship with my father Bubba and I shared more than a few great adventures during our magical "Tom Sawyer years" Our Dads took us on some wild rides through the Corbett Area in the back of a pickup truck, bouncing around the truck bed like marbles, scared for our lives a few times but usually howling with delight. We shared some great snook fishing fun in the Palm Beach Inlet, usually followed by great ping pong games at his house (when our Dads would finally let us play). Bubba was a good and happy kid. He will be missed by a lot of people. I'm so sorry for your loss.

“ I was absolutely shocked when I went to the store yesterday and read the terribly sad news. Bubba always talked about happy things - his passion for the fishing tournaments in which he participated, life in Tennessee, his parents and the oh-so-funny story about a photograph of him Jeanne had brought to a special birthday party at church. When a man speaks so well of his wife you know he's one of the "good guys".He was so pleasant and the type of person you looked forward to seeing as you shopped for the quality products in the store.Life is so fragile and you never know when will be the last time you see someone. I certainly thought I would see him yesterday.The request for a Toys-For-Tots gift or a donation to a charity truly suits Bubba's personality.My sincere condolences to Jeanne, his son, his parents and all his relatives.
