“ I treasure the fun memories of time spent with Jack. He never failed to make me laugh. I recall him borrowing furniture from the lobby to furnish his apartment at what was the Valley View Apartments. Her also introduced me to the legendary Lew Turks in Essington, PA where he would always wear his lucky knit cap. I recall once in downtown Philadelphia on a Saturday night he dropped his girlfriend off in the red-light district when she continued complaining about something. We drove around the block and were in a slight panic when we couldn't locate her right away.

*My sincere condolences to Eileen, Jim, Bill and family. Jack no longer needs to suffer and is now comfortably embraced in heaven by The Lord. Rest in peace my dear friend Jack as the pain has ended. I will forever miss your loud voice and laugh. Glen Gundaker
