

Nancy Lou Skakandy

November 27, 1930 - September 25, 2016

Nancy Lou Meade Skakandy left this earthly life on September 25th, 2016, leaving behind her beloved husband of 66 years, Jack Stephen Skakandy. Born in Red Bank, NJ on November 27 - forget the year, Irish ladies do not tell – to Francis Leo Mead and Loretta Conway Meade, Nancy Lou was the first female to become a principle of a national securities/investment banking firm in the USA while living in New Jersey. After moving to Palm Beach County in 1970 Nancy became involved in real estate and was the sales and/or project manager of many Singer Island high-rise communities. Nancy also became an accomplished private pilot, sports fisherwoman and enjoyed many days sailing along the sunny banks of the Loxahatchee River. Nancy was a strong, dedicated wife and mother of three sons: John Stephen Skakandy, Jr. (Toni Lee Donofrio Skakandy); Robert Meade Skakandy (Ann Huddleston Skakandy) and Stephen Conway Skakandy (Joyce Bland Skakandy), and grandmother to two grandchildren, John Stephen Skakandy, III and Sean Collins Skakandy. Nancy has one surviving sister, Claire Whalen of Poughkeepsie, NY, and is predeceased by two other sisters, Jane Allen of Laguna Beach, CA and Madeline Griffith of North Carolina.
