“ I am profoundly moved by the love for my father Rene on this message board. I've read all your entries and they each have brought a loving smile for the memories of how my father's life touched so many others. Words can't describe the immensity of my loss in losing my father, but he is close by in my mind's eye.

“ Rene ' was a life long friend of my Dad's having met in Shanghai China during the war. I have my middle name because he was so special to my Dad Jay Laughlin.
Dad and Rene' lost touch for many years but I needed to find him when I grew up and started calling every Sbath in New York City. I then suprised my Dad with a trip to NYC and a visit to Rene ' s home and from that day forward they remained best friends.Rene' even stood in for Dad at my son's wedding.Dad preceded Rene ' to heaven May 4, 2005 and I am sure was there to greet him in heaven.
Karen, you and Rene ' s girls will always be very special to Jay, Drew, and me. Please contact me soon.
Tears are running down my face for the loss of Rene' and love is pouring out to those left behind, but knowing Rene' s love of God and heaven brings us a joy knowing he is in the care of God.

Love to all of Rene ' s family. Caroll Rene'

“ Dear Karen and family,

Rene was one of those special people with a huge heart. His love for his faith was seen in so many way. For us at Our Lady of Florida Spiritual Center, he was not only a retreatant but as a promoter who wanted others to have the experience of time away for spiritual nourish as well.

My personal experience of him is a person who loved greatly and with compassion. I trust he is with the living God and perhaps organizing a heavenly retreat right now.

“ Dear Karen,

It was with deep sadness that I read about Rene's passing. He was a wonderful friend to both of my parents. He spent many hours with them when they were alive bringing them peace and a love of God in their later years. I will be forever grateful for knowing such a wonderful person and will keep you and your family in my prayers. Please extend my condolences to your family.
