“ This afternoon, a co-worker and I were discussing name meanings and such. I was telling him that I was named by my grandfather, Marion Hardy (M.H.) Maxwell, after one of his best army buddies in World War II. The memory of hearing my grandfather tell stories about his adventures with Roger prompted me to research him on the Internet. I was saddened to see he passed away so recently. I had hoped to meet the man I was named after in person some day, but I guess I'll have to wait a while longer. My grandfather was one of the finest men that walked this Earth and for him to have spoken so highly of Mr. Slagel assures me that he was a fine man as well! My thoughts are with Mr. Slagel's family.
