“ It is so painful to think of losing a child. He put up a good fight, but, in the end, we are all in God's hands. I will keep him and his family in my prayers.

“ We are so saddened about Steven's death!!! We remember last seeing him when we were in Florida a few years ago and could tell he was a very hard working man yet one of warmth and graciousness. We are particularly sorry for our dear friends, Joan and Richard that they must again go through the agony of losing a son. We keep them in our prayers daily.

“ Steven and his three brothers and two sisters were inseperable while growing up and they remained close in adulthood. Steven as a child was always a character who managed to get into mischief and to survive unscathed. His warm smile and loving manner stayed with him into adulthood. He served honorably in the U..S. Army as a medic. He was a staunch patriots who loved our country. When he was diagnosed as having lung cancer he took the news with calm and determination.

I saw his unspoken determination to fight the disease with dignity and a stoic resolve to not burden his family and friends with his problem. During the trying and difficult days of his long and painful struggle to survive he never, not once, complained or expressed self-pity. For the love of his family he continued working to the last day of his life, at a difficult and exacting job, so that he would be able to leave something to those he knew he would soon be leaving.

My wife and I are saddened by the loss of our loving and precious son. However, we are also warmed by the knowledge that Steven had so many true and loyal friends and that he will be warmly remembered by all who knew him. A few months before he succumed to his illness, I spoke with Steven and he said that he was not afraid to die but that he was saddened by the fact that he will have to leave his family and friends. That remark captured the spirit of Steven, who always had genuine concern for his family and friends.

“ Dear Family, My heart hangs heavy and grieves with you over the loss of Steven, a sweet, dear and beautiful soul who will ever be remembered for his loving personality. My only wish is that I had remained closer to him. As a child and teenager I vividly recall his darling and exuberant way, his love of life and innocent love. He will live in my heart always. My sincere sorrow and condolences to all of the family especially his Mother and Father and friends. Most especially also, my sympathy for his two sons whom I have never met. May the comfort of the knowledge that we will all meet again one day sustain you all. With loving remembrance, Marilyn

“ On the day of Steven's memorial, we are reminded of Steven and remember him as a handsome, sweet young man. It has been many years since we last saw Steven, but we will never forget the our nephew and all he meant to his family.

We send our loving wishes also to his two sons. It is hard to lose one's father.

May Joan & Richard, and all their children and grandchildren be comforted knowing he is in a safe and loving place with Heavenly Father.

“ There was a constant smile on this man's face! Steve was a great person and it was always great to see him at gatherings and parties. He fought a long hard battle and never gave up. My condolences to his family and closest friends as they truly lost a special person. May he continually visit all of you with his memories.
