“ Dear Cullen Family, America has lost yet another loving, " Irish Catholic Family Patriarch", from the "Greatest Generation". While reading Mr. Cullen's obituary, I was overcome with joy, learning he was from a huge Irish Catholic family growing up during the Great Depression. Then he and his bride Mrs. Cullen, were blessed by our Lord Jesus Christ, with their own large family of " Baby Boomers. I'm from one of the enormous Irish Catholic Baby Boomer families too, and we all sit back now and say, How did our parents do it?? The answer is their faith. Everything revolves around the church, love, and commitment to family. May everyone in your "Clan" cherish the wonderful days growing up in the 1950's thru the late 1970's. We certainly have the best role models with dedication to family first. God Bless you all and your Mom. Rest in Peace Mr. Cullen , job well done.

“ I'm John Phillips, brother of Meg Phillips. I lived down the block from Bill on Kilburn Road. I knew Bill and remember him so fondly. When I was a young boy he often took myself and other youngsters to see the Titans play at the Polo Grounds. He was generous, infectious, and a joy to be around.
